Hey Morris,

I still really want this inner coffin to complete the set. Lets wait until next week before re-contacting them about this item. If you were just there, I'm sure they still have it. Of course, I will take just the original two but having this third inner coffin really would be nice and I will pay more than 75K to get this coffin - 150 K is too much but somewhere in between is OK. Maybe we should just contact the "buyer" about reselling this item to us for a quick profit, think about it. Have a great holiday!!!

I am on my way to arrange for shipping the item I will call you when I get back wednesday.
I sent them the money before I left all good to go.
Just hoping when you have a chance to send me a deposit and when the piece arrive will worry about the rest.
Let me know.
Thanks

Hey Morris,

Sorry for no communication, I am in Europe until April 4 on business. OK, please have the professional mounter mount the mask and the linen in the same large frame (one frame for both pieces - understand?), just put the mask at the top and then the linen below, the depth of the frame will probably be about 2-3" since the mask has depth. The linen should be sewn carefully to black linen backing so as not to see the stitching. If you want to wait until I return to discuss more we can do that. I can send you money as soon as I get back.

Thanks, Joe

hello Joe

how are you doing?

i have not heard from you my friend i hope the problem with the accountant is solved i did not want to bother you with our deal, however, the mask is almost done i wanted to see if i should send it with the coffin or seprate?

as far as mounting i do not think sasha would do such a good job the best thing is have it done by a proffesional 10-31 out of NJ they are the best the will do a hell of a job for it sasha is a restorer not a mounter.

i will wait to have it back from sasha and call 10-31 to come and take it they will give me an estimatet and i will call you and let you know how much so you can pay them directly.

if you have not sent a check please add the $1300 for the mask restoration to pay Sasha and add the old balance for $200 total of $13500
